Methods and Apparatus for Extended Depth of Focus Microscopy Abstract of the Disclosure

Imaging techniques. The focus of an imaging device is varied while acquiring an image of an object. The resulting blurred image is deconvolved to generate, in one embodiment, a two-dimensional projection image of three dimensions of the object.